SOCIAL SECURITY UPDATES

By Karyl Richson
Social Security Public Affairs Specialist in Milwaukee

QUICK HELP AVAILABLE IF YOU NEED PROOF OF SOCIAL SECURITY INCOME

Unfortunately, the paperwork requirements of life do not suddenly disappear when you stop working. There still may be times when you will need proof of income, such as when you apply for a car loan or a mortgage, or if you want to apply for assisted housing or other state or local benefits.

For older Americans, and for many Americans with disabilities, this proof of income would probably include proof of their Social Security benefits.

Because it is such a common need, we try to make getting proof that you are receiving income from Social Security as easy as possible. You can visit the Social Security website at www.socialsecurity.gov/onlineservices/ and request a "Proof of Income" letter. This letter is sometimes called a "budget letter," a "benefits letter" or a "proof of award letter."

At the website you will be asked a series of simple questions designed to verify your identity and to protect your personal information.

You can select the information you would like on your proof of income letter. This means that you can also use it as proof of a disability, of your current Medicare health insurance coverage, of your retirement status or of your age.

Your Proof of Income letter will arrive in the mail in about 10 days after you request it. It is important to remember, however, that you can request a letter only for yourself. For example, if your spouse also receives benefits then he or she must request a separate letter.

If you need proof sooner, you can contact your local Social Security office.

WHY A SOCIAL SECURITY "COLA" IS IMPORTANT TO OLDER AMERICANS

One of the most important announcements Social Security makes each year is that of the cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) for the next year. It's something that every beneficiary is keenly interested in. For all of those readers who are not yet receiving Social Security benefits, let me explain why last month's COLA announcement is so important.

More than 52 million people get Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefit payments. Approximately 984,000 live in the state of Wisconsin. The annual COLA helps ensure that their benefit payments keep pace with inflation. The COLA, which was 4.1 percent this year, will show up in the January 2006 benefit payments for Social Security beneficiaries. And increased payments for Supplemental Security Income recipients will begin on December 30, 2005.

Many financial planners point out that the annual COLA is one of Social Security's most important features and note that relatively few private pensions have automatic cost-of-living increases.

Without a COLA, retirement benefit payments could lose their purchasing power over time. For example, if the annual inflation rate were 4 percent, an item that costs $25 today would cost $50 in 18 years. This COLA protection becomes even more important as workers live longer after retiring—the average life expectancy for a 65-year-old today is more than 17½ years, compared with about 12½ years when the Social Security program began in 1935.

The COLAs are directly tied to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers (CPI-W). The CPI-W measures inflation, as experienced by consumers in their day-to-day living expenses.

Before 1975, it took an act of Congress to increase Social Security benefit payments. In fact, the first increase was not authorized until 1950 -- 15 years after the original Social Security Act was passed, and a decade after the first monthly benefits were paid.

For more information on the 2006 COLA, visit the Social Security website at www.socialsecurity.gov.

IKEBANA Floral Design – Beginner Level Class

Instructor: Maribeth Price, Ikebono Professor

9:30 am - $150 / $140 members

IKEBANA is the Japanese art of flower arrangement. IKEBANA is more than simply putting flowers in a container. It is a disciplined art form in which the arrangement is a living thing in which nature and humanity are brought together. It is steeped in the philosophy of developing a closeness with nature. One tries to represent the three elements sky, earth, and mankind in a well balanced relation. Ikebono school teaches all types of IKEBAN Floral Design.

Boerner Botanical Gardens Garden Art Fair 2005

Saturday, May 21
11:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.

Sunday, May 22
11:00 a.m. – 5:00 p.m.

OBJECTIVE

For artists to share their botanically-inspired work with the public through sales and exhibition in a stunning garden setting.

LOCATION

Boerner Botanical Gardens, 9400 Boerner Dr., Hales Corners, WI 53130

ELIGIBILITY

Artists are encouraged to apply if the artist follows the Friends of Boerner Botanical Gardens Mission Statement, and their work is visibly botanical or kept with the theme of Garden Art. Artists must work in the field of: ceramics, drawing/pastels, glass, jewelry, metal, painting, photography, printmaking, sculpture and wood.

IMPORTANT DATES

March 30	Deadline for Application and Slides
April 12	Jury Review and Selection
April 15	Notification of acceptance into Garden Art Fair 2005
April 21	Deadline for Booth Fee
May 1	Last day for cancellations
May 20	Booth Set-Up at 4:00 p.m.
May 21 – 22 Garden Art Fair 2005!

Garden Art Fair 2005 ~ May 21 & 22

RULES AND REQUIREMENTS

- Open to artists 18 years and older.
- Artists must be present to exhibit.
No spouses, sales reps or other representatives will be permitted in place of the artists. Artists will be asked to show their driver's license at check-in.
- All work in every category must be original and produced by the artists.
Work that has been produced with commercial kits, molds, plans, pre-fabricated forms, or other commercial methods is NOT permitted. Reproductions of any kind of your original work are not permitted. Component parts not made by the artist must play a subordinate role in the overall piece.
- Artists may enter in no more than 2 categories.
If entering in 2 different categories, a full set of slides must be submitted with separate application form and fees. If accepted in 2 categories, only one space will be allocated.
- Only work shown on your slides can be exhibited.
Slides should represent current work, and be in direct proportion to the work you plan to exhibit.
- The committee reserves the right to refuse any artist that is not consistent with submitted slides or not complying with stated requirements.

WEATHER

The show will go on rain or shine.

Rain will be called by Friday at 12:00 Noon. Should the weather forecast necessitate, the show will be moved inside to the Education & Visitor Center.

JURY PROCESS

The jury process is anonymous, a blind jury. The jury panel consists of three independent jurors (working artists, horticulturists, and/or academic professionals). All artists' slides are first previewed to get a sense of the overall body of work being submitted. Artist's slides are projected simultaneously and scored on a scale of 1 – 5. Scores are tabulated and committee members review the scores and balance the media to ensure an exciting show for all.

If selected, you will be notified by April 15. Additional artists will be placed on a waiting list and will be notified if space becomes available. If you are selected for the show an additional $150 booth fee is required. Booth fees are non-refundable.

Artists' slides will be mailed back to those who are not juried into the show. Slides of accepted artists will be returned to the artists during the Garden Art Fair. Slides of artists selected for the waiting list will be returned when no further spots are available, or during the show, if accepted. In submitting an application, the artist agrees that slides may be used for publicity purposes.

SALES

All proceeds from sales go to the artists. Each artist is responsible for collecting/reporting Wisconsin Sales Tax. A registered seller's permit form MUST be on file with the show before setting up. To request a Wisconsin seller's permit, contact the State of Wisconsin Department of Revenue at 608-266-2776.

DISPLAY AND INSTALLATION

Artists are responsible for providing their own display materials that are of quality standards to convey a professional look. A tent is recommended. The Fair Committee will have final say on booth displays to ensure no damage to the gardens. Spaces measure approximately 10 x 20 ft. Only one exhibitor/partnership is allowed per booth space. Customized booth placement will ensure balance throughout the show.

Each exhibitor will be screened at the beginning of the fair by the Fair Committee to be certain that the slides submitted for jurying reflect the work being exhibited. If inconsistencies occur, the artist will be asked to remove the work. If necessary, the artist will be asked to leave the fair and will not be able to exhibit in the future. All decisions of the Fair Committee will be final.

SECURITY

Security will be provided overnight so that display fixtures/tents may remain set up at the artist's discretion. We strongly recommend that art work or valuables of any kind NOT be left at the booth space overnight. Boerner Botanical Gardens or the Friends of Boerner Botanical Gardens will not be held responsible for loss or theft of any kind under any circumstances.

SPECIAL AMENITIES

Friday night set-up	Booth Sitters	Free Parking
Security	Promotional Postcards
Complimentary breakfast on Saturday and Sunday

AWARDS CEREMONY

Sunday morning Artists' Brunch and Awards Ceremony. Susan Falkman, Honorary Chairman along with the blind jury, will present awards for Best of Show and for Best Use of Botanical/Garden Theme.

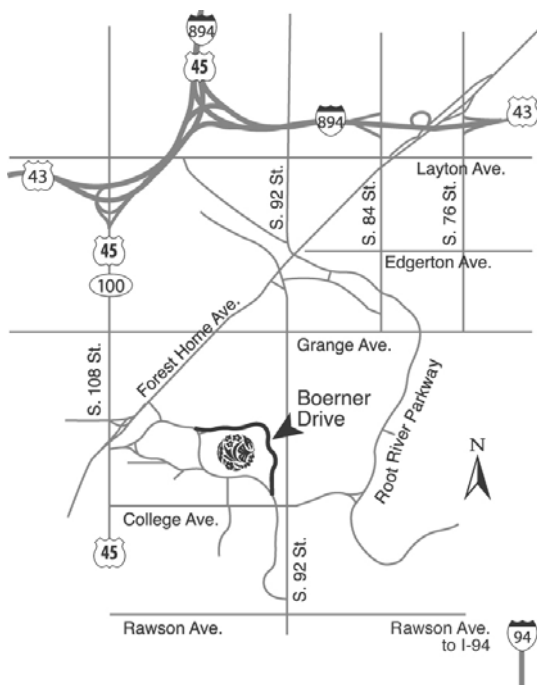

BLIND SILENT AUCTION

All exhibitors are asked to donate a piece of work to the Silent Auction. Proceeds will benefit the Friends of Boerner Botanical Gardens. The Auction takes place on Saturday and Sunday and winners will be notified after the show closes. Donated artwork is greatly appreciated.
